

ALPS Active Equity Opportunity ETF

Ticker: RFFC

Fact Sheet as of March 31, 2025

The ALPS Active Equity Opportunity ETF (RFFC) consists primarily of stocks determined to have better than average or improving fundamentals as measured by return on invested capital (ROIC).

We believe ROIC is the most complete measure of profitability, which in turn is the primary driver of equity returns. Both the rate of change and durability of ROIC are important considerations in determining potential business value.

Focusing on ROIC on a stock specific level allows for security selection to be a prominent driver of RFFC's excess returns.
